It is said that a few weeks ago, after he had been lying in an unconscious state for some time, he revived, and wished his family to be called for prayers. After praying for some time quite rationally, his mind began to wander, and he closed the exercise by a petition that "his draft might be honored for righteousness, purity, and senctification," and fell away again into un-

DESERTIONS IN CANADA. The Albany Evening Journal, commenting upon the recent homicide in Montreal, where a desecter was shot by an officer of the British army, says:

sering from the frontier towns singly, in pairs, and in squads. One after monther disappeared from Kingston Barracks, and finally a Sergeant and nine men who were set to intercept the rinaways, all got into a bost together and rowed off to Cape Vincent, having first burned the officients of the content of cers boats to prevent pursuit. Similar desertion are occurring in Montreal, and the affair narrates above is among their consequences.

Election in Leavenworth City.

Election in Loaven worth City.

Leaven worth City. Sept. 7.

To the Editor of the Missouri Democrat:

I drop you a few lines about this territory.—
On this day was held the election for city officers in Leavenworth. The city authorities had caused all the doggeries to be closed, so the election passed off very quiedly. The fire exters had no bad whiskey to keep up their courage, so there was no lighting. The five state party re-elected their Mayor and Coucilmen by 260 or 270 majority, and it might have been much larger as there was no systematic attempt to get the free state voters out. I have been in Leavenworth, Quindaro, Don't

I have been in Leavenworth, Quindaro, Dociphan, Geary City, Lawrence, Tecumseh and Topeka, and think I know the sendments of the free state people here who constitute seveneights, if not nine-tenths of the population, and I believe that if the bogus laws enacted by the Border Rullians are enforced, you may well look out for war. The free state party are fully resolved to vote in October, if pernitted, but to pay a tax levied by rullians from another state, is what they will never submit to. J. D. S. Steckel Correspondence of the Missouri Demograt. Special Correspondence of the Missouri Democrat. QUINDARO, Sept. 5, 1857.

LECOMPTON NEWS—RAYLET'S CASE.

Mr. Bayley is not yet dead. He is lying in a very precarious condition. On Saureay, Mr. Brockett, who stabled Mr. Bayley returned to Lecompton and was arrested. The propagan dists swore that he should not be tried, and that dists swore that he should not be tried, and that any man who dered to testify against him should be shot. He was brought before a justice of the peace. The rocsin was sounded. The fire-eaters assembled. The tree state democrats also convened. The conservative pro-slavery mon met too—Shannou, Brindle, Eli Moore, and Stephens, of New York—and determined to act with their free state friends. with their free state friends.

Lewis Ludington in on more. He died at his farm house, near Kenosha, Wiaconain, at a o'clock on the mothing of Toursday last, 2d instant, at the sipe age of 72 years, and his remains were interred in the Presbyterian Cemerery near our village, on Subrath atternoon. During his last illness, which was brief, he was kindly attended by his children now residing at the West, and be had every comfort which the nature of the circumstances would permit. He died peacefully and happy, blessing and trusting in the merits of his Savior.

Mr. Ludington was a native of this county, the last surving son of Colonel flenry Ludington, of Revolutionary memory, and was born in Fredericksburgh Precinct, now the town of Keat, only two years after the war. For nearly forty years he has resided in this village, and during that the has led a most active life. His principal business operations were conducted in Wisconsin. He was senior member of the house of Ludington of a large property.

It seems that Oelschlager was in the habit of visiting an other man's wife, and some of the friends of Oelschlager's wife, having discovered that he was at this woman's bouse on Saturday evening, informed her of the matter, whereupon she, with a number of others, among whom was Steckel, proceeded to the house of the adulteress, and there found Oelschlager in the set of committing adultery with her. We did not learn whether they attempted any violence upon him or not, lately published at the Pinery office.

National and State Politics. The News makes dolorous complaint against the Republican press, for their strictures upon the Pro-Slavery tendencies of the Federal Administration and the Sham Democracy, and entors its protest against dragging these matters into our State canvass. It says: into our State canvass. It says:

We did hope, as no Congressmen, or other officers that will have anything to do with national politics, are to be elected in November, that the results of the canvass might turn upon home issues and the respective merits of the candidates. But that would not suit the opposition. Independently of false issues, they would not have a hope of success; and even now they are nearly given over to despair.

We rather think that "the opposition," so far from despairing about the November canvass, are entirely content and confident as to the prospacts. But the News is quite right in saying. that it would not "suit" us to leave " National politica" out of sight, and unquestionably sincere in wishing that we would. It was to bring about a radical reform in National, even more than in State politics, that the Republican party was organized, and they would be unfaithful to their mission if they consented to waive, even for a brief season, issues so important as those now before the people of the United States. Especially is this no time to lay aside "National polities," when the Slavery Propaganda, emboldened by past success and encouraged by the open and ective aid of the Federal Administration and the "National Democracy," are preparing for further aggressions and new encroachments. When a President of the United States, for the first time in our history, formally announces the startling doctrine that Stavenv exists of right in every foot of our Territory, and avows his determination to protect it there by all the means at his command, it behaves every Freedom-loving cities and the Bepublic to gird himself snew for the conflict and to land with the backs of the triver, and all were destroyed.

The News might, without difficulty, have as signed a much better reason for declining "to look after the Germans." The Postmaster, Col. lector. State Prison Commissioner and other Democratic efficials undertook to "look after the Germans," at the meeting Siturday week, but met with such poor success that they have no mind to repeat the experiment. The Germans are "intelligent," and therefore rightly appreciate the talk of the News about Mesers, Lockwood, Kanned and others, when they see leading and zealous Know Nothings among the confidential friends and most active supporters of and that unsulmity and concert of action char-Mayor CROSS.

licentious master! This is President Buchanan's cending of the American Constitution. Thank God, there is yet a small part of the American continent to which this liberty does not extend. If the British Parliament will but do its duty when the great question of North Western Enaccipation comes before it, we shall be able to say that our half of the continent is untouched by the curse of slavery. This furid exposition of the blessings; which the American Constitution confers, abould induce every friend of humanity to resist its extension. Let it be forever confined to its present limits. Especially let it not extend its hateful power over a single foot of that western territory, which, if not wholly free, is subject to no legal taskmaster, and which God and nature procedum to be the fit home for millions of free men.

Onto LITERATURE -A newspaper comes to us from Fulton Co., Ohio, from a place called Otto-

"Milwaky centinel Milwaky Wis."

Here follows a "leading article" in the paper verbatim et literation :

The Wicked Flee; when they are like to be Persure. — Died it Wauseon, Sep. 8d 1857, the late Editor of the Wauseon Septimel, after a sungle for nearly three months, with the horn was abliged to creep out of the small end, which produced a decase called rotteness and a dishonest heart, which proved his awful Death.— Poor Fellow; how he must have suffered.

We propose a subscription among our brethren of the press, to give the editor a year's tuition in some good common school.

Accounted For .- It is now definitely agreetained what broke the telegraph cable. A correspondent of the Philadelphia North American writes:

"For years I have been hoping some of the knights of the pen would take up the cudgels and chastise this literary pretender (Martin Farquiar Tupper), who seizes every possible opportunity to write a very oad sounce and get it printed. His last sounce on the Atlantic cable, there is no doubt, was the cause of its breaking. Nothing on earth could stand such a strain as that!"

When large masses of men are assembled to make a selection of candidates for office, it is make a selection of candidates for office, it is but natural to look for a clashing of interests and feeling, and it is rare indeed that local and indi-vidual preferences and projudices can be laid selvid, and a ticket nominated which can com-mend the unanimity and harmony which was

No matter how large discounts may be required in to bring forward the crop just matured or maturing, one banks will be fortified by making them under safeguards. True, no time should be usedlessly wasted in the operation, so as to bring a strain on the banks while the produce shall be decoming forward; but, if safe buyers in Cleveland and Chicago, Dataque or Burlington, Muscatine or Alton, should require short discounts secured on grain or provisions on their way to the scaboard to enable them to buy more, and pay cash, so fast as the farmers may be ready to sell and deliver, they ought to be fully accommodated, and our banks, as well as those of the West, would be benefited and fortified by milording the needed facilities.

THE DALL SINGULA.

A Clayer man was Dr. Digs; Mishranges well no bord; Mishranges well no bord; Mishranges mishranges; And though the practices was once large, It off not swell ble gains, The paller he theored for were but The labor for his paller.

Though "articloug," mosesh got stort, and well might there droud it. For who we have an arms suknown When merk tets no ordan! To marry seemed the only Way To east his mid of ordate; Misfortube cuver slocky now, and misery made them stone.

He had a patient, rich and in r.
That hearth by scores was tracking.
And as no more nad felt ther wrist,
He thought her hand of laking;
Sat what she haw makes strongers de
Did strike his occuprehension.
Who live to trest United States,
Do dras declare intention.

And so he usited—hit beating heart
With account fears was swelling—
And hat it hight teels her hand,
And on her tongee was dwelling;
But this et hough he essayed to speak,
He stopped, and stuck, and but dered,
Yor say, what mostst out due cool,
Whose pulse was at a hundred?

"Madame," at last he falt ered out— His love grown more contageous— "I nave dacemed a new corporation," I nope to prove contagious; And when he symptoms I relate, and show its disposits, Al, let me hope from those dear lips Some favorable prognosits.

"This done," he ories, "let's ite those ties Which more but death can sever; once 'like cares like,' I do infor That love ourse love for even." Ite pansed—she blushed; hottever all angulations on first perusai, although there was no promise made, Sho gave him a refueal.

"I cannot marry one who lives By other full," distresses— The man! I marry I must love, Nor ferr als food caresses; For who, whatevor be their sex, However strange the case is, Would like to have a doctor's bill Stack up into their faces?"

Tax Carirot Ferension .- A large number from plinths for the heavy columns of the new dome, have lately arrived from the iron works of the contractors, and are being put up. The plinters and columns will immediately follow on the setting of the plinths. The interior cornice of the new dome is being put under the superintendence of Mr. Fowler, of the firm of Bebec & Co.

In the new House ball, the click of the busy hammer, and the usual industrial sounds attendant on the prosecution of a vast work are constantly heard. The doors for the guilleries of the halls are being made, and are of beautiful design end finish; they are venesred with bird's eye maple, and are further finished by exquisitely designed brass consmental mouldings, representing national fruits; flowers, &c.

Of these doors surrounding the galleries of the two halls, there are to be twenty-four, twelve of which are nearly done, and are being ornamented with variously designed mouldings and wreaths. The speaker's retiring room, which will be, when finished, the most beautiful room in the whole building, is constructed cutting of from. The pleatens are now being set, and the brinchayers are backing up as fest as they are placed in position.

they are placed in position.
The mechanical exactitude which is required in that it will seem as it news out of a solid that it will seem as it news out of a solid rock, and so highly polished as to serve for a nurror to reflect back the figure of the spectator.

The foundations of the porticos and colonnades are nearly finished at both wings. The connecting corridors are going up with uninterrupted success. It is worthy of resuark that the capitals and pilasters throughout will be ornamented with designs representive of American products, such as corn, tobacto, cotton, wheat, paimetto, &c.

with designs representive of American products, such as corn, tobacto, cotton, wheat, paimetto, &c.

In the statuary department the work goes bravely on. The large piece nearly finished by Gagliardi, representing "America," is worth a visit; and near by in the same room, the "Indian Mother, is nearlycompleted by the same artist. In an adjoining the "Woodman," from a new design by Crawford, is just begun. This piece represents the pioneer American in the act of feeling an enormous tree, while at his foot a poisonous sanke with uplifted head and fangs distenced, watches with devilish hate the sturdy forester who has disturbed its domicile. The woodman toils on unaware of the lurking danger. The piece is lifesize and designed with graphic skill, and is to be executed by Senor Batti, an Italian sculptor. "The Young Hunter" is the name of enother new piece from the same designer, and just commenced by Senor Batti.

A large sewer to drain the entire buildings leading from the centre of the old Capitol is being constructed; it is some thousand feet in length, one hundred feet of which is now completed. It will discharge into the Canal at the foot of First street. The work is being superintended by Mr. Zephaniah Jones, and will be completed entirely by the first of October next. The constructure of the dome will occupy not less than six years in building, and when completed will be an achievement in tron architecture, second to nyne of the kind in the world.—

The mechanical examinate which is required in fitting together the various parts of the iron finiting together the various parts of the iron finiting is far beyond that of any other branch of the work. The ornamental main lights in the coiling of the hall, will be a sight to inspire the admiration of the most indifferent observer.

The beautiful designs in colored glass, representing in each light the arms of one of the states of the Union, are soon to be set, and will not fail to oreate astonishment and delight. All the rooms envrounding the hall of the house are being pushed forward towards complication, with commendable disputch. The painting, plastering, frescoing, and all the wainous branches of the interior work, are in a state of advancement. The stairways of citter uniding are going up and growing in laterest and beauty as they advance. They are to be of marble, either native or Italian, throughout. The stairway in the new Senate, when completed, will challenge the admiration of the world. Not a point from base to apper but what will be so nicely fitted together that it will seem as it hewp out of a solid rock, and on the world with relief and the large with the results of the process.
